THE SENTINEL.

Monday Oct. 29, 1866.

The following advertisement illustrates the greatness of the number of words commencing with the letter "S,"—almost a language of themselves. It is said to be a literal copy of a notice posted in a prominent place in one of the flourishing towns in the County Cork, Ireland:

"Will be sold, or set up for sale, on Saturday, the sixth day of September next, in the town of Skiverneen, Spanker, the property of Seth O'Sullivan,—a strong, staunch, steady, sound, safe, sinewy, serviceable, strapping, supple, swift sorrel stallion. He is sightly, sprightly, spirited, sturdy, shining, sure-footed, slack, smooded, spunky, well skinned. He is sized and shaped sweetly, saddle stead of superlative symmetry, named and styled, as aforesaid, Spanker, with a small star and snip. He is square-sided, slender-shoulder-ed, sharp-sighted, and steps singularly stately. He is free from strain, sprain, or spavin. He is neither stiff-mouthed, shabby-copted, sinew-shrunk, spur-galled, saddle-backed, shell-toothed, slim-girthed, short-winded, splay-footed or shoulder-slipped, and is sound in the four points and in the stifle joint. He has neither sick-splen, sleeping evil, set-fast, snaggle-teeth, sub-tumors, sores or shattering hoofs. Nor is he sour, sulky, surly, stubborn or sullen-tempered. He is neither shy, skittish, slow, sluggish or stupid. He never slips, strips, strays, sniffles or stalks in his stall or stable, and scarcely or seldom sweats. He has a showy, stylish switch tail on his stern and a safe set of shoes on his feet. He can feed on soil, stubble, sinfar, sheaf oats, straw, sage, or Scotch grass. He can carry sixteen stone with a surprising speed, and stride a six-foot stone wall on a stroke. His sire was the Sly Supple Sides, out of a sister of Spindle Shanks, by Samson, a sporting son of Sparkler, who won the sweepstakes and subscription plate last season at Sligo. His selling price is sixty-seven pounds, sixteen shillings sixpence sterling."

LA NUT FOR ABOLITIONISTS.—The following little incident, a volume in itself, is related to us by a merchant of Norfolk, himself the agent of the freedman alluded to below, and is worthy of a place in history, and will do more than a hundred speakers can accomplish in refutation of the vile calumnies of abolitionists against the inhumanity of the former owners of slaves. But to the incident: "It happened during the late struggle for Southern independence that a servant of Mr.———, residing in the State of Georgia, near the coast, was overtaken by the Federals, and forced into the service on board a United States vessel. Some months since he arrived in a Southern city, possessed of several hundred dollars. He at once wrote to his master, and on receiving an answer to the letter, he called on a gentleman who was attending to some business for him, and thus reported the correspondence: 'I have just heard from my master; he writes me that his house was burned and his property entirely destroyed by the Yankees; his own health is very bad, and as I know he has a large family to support, I am anxious that you, Mr.———, should arrange my business as soon as you possibly can, that I may take what money I have and go and divide it with him. He has been a kind master to me, and I intend to work for him and his children the remainder of my days.'"—Norfolk Virginian.

Facts vs. Theories.

"Give me a place to rest my lever on," says Archimedes, "and I will move the world." "Give me pure and unadulterated drugs," says Medicus, of the olden time, "and I will cure disease."

In one sense, both of these learned pundits were the veriest charlatans. They knew there was no place to rest their lever on, either to move the world or cure disease. Mechanism was in a backward state, and the medical profession was but another name for sorcery, and all the adjuncts of magic filters and charms of the "evil eye," &c.

But these latter days have borne unto us something more than even superstition and its crew ever dreamt of in their maddest philosophy. In these days of practical science, what was theory of yesterday is fact to-day, and all the old time notions become as bubbles in the sun, and burst and break with every breath we draw.

Let Archimedes shoulder his lever and we will find a resting place for it to move the world. Let mine ancient Medicus pant and toil no more for the drugs he so sorely needs, for we have them at our hand, ever ready to serve them at his beck.

Refined in the laboratory of Dr. Maggiel, the finest materials known in the medical profession are obtainable by any one. His Billious, Dyspeptic, and Diarrhea Pills stand unrivalled, and his Salve operates with magical effect upon burns, scalds, and all sores and ulcers of the skin.

In fact, we think Maggiel's Pills and Salve are the wonder of this century, and we are happy in the thought that many others of our brethren of the craft agree with us. We would earnestly counsel that all families provide themselves with Dr. Maggiel's preparations at once, and keep them ready at hand, so as to use them at the most opportune time and as occasion serves.—Valley Sentinel.

TOMATO WINE.—It may not be known to all our readers that an excellent wine can be made from tomatoes. We have drunk wine of this kind, which good judges, unaware of its nature, pronounced still Catawba. The following is said to be a good receipt for tomato wine, which is said to retain all well known medicinal properties of the fruit: Express the juice of ripe tomatoes, put one pound of sugar to each quart of the juice, and bottle. In a few weeks it will have the appearance and flavor of pure wine of the best kind. No alcohol is needed to preserve it. Mixed with water, it is a delightful beverage for the sick.

EXCHANGE OF N. C. BONDS FOR STOCKS.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
TREASURY DEPARTMENT.
Raleigh, September 27th. 1866.

The Public are reminded that, in pursuance of an Ordinance of the late Convention, sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned, until 12 M., on the first day of November next, for the exchange of the principal of bonds issued by the State before the 20th. May 1861, for the Stocks held by the State in the various Rail Roads and other Companies, of which the following are the principal:

North Carolina R. R. Co.	$3,000,000,
Raleigh & Gaston R. R. Co.	682,500,
Atlantic & N. C. R. R.	1,065,000,
Western N. C. R. R. Co.	1,418,000,
Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Co.	350,000.

No bid less than par will be entertained. Any premiums offered may be applied to payment of the interest due on the bonds offered in exchange. Bids will be opened in the presence of the Governor and Comptroller, and those will be accepted most advantageous to the State.

Purchasers of preferred stock will not obtain rights greater than holders of stocks not preferred.

In consequence of the bonds and liens, held by the State on various Rail Road Companies, having been in part executed during the late war, I have concluded not to offer them for exchange until the reception of special instructions from the General Assembly.

I have deferred the time of opening bids in order that parties interested might have opportunity of examining the reports of the various Companies for the present year, which no doubt can be obtained from the proper officers of the Companies.

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

SCIENTIFIC men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

MRS. S. P. HILLSMON.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

I have tried Mr. Wm. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them very good.

FOR SALE.

ONE THOUSAND ACRES of valuable land, lying on Neuse River, in the County of Johnson, and on both sides of the N. C. R. Road, between Smithfield and Stallings' Depots.

I prefer selling the whole tract to one man, but will cut it into hundred acre tracts to suit purchasers. For a company of men wishing small farms and pleasant healthy locations, it holds out good inducements, as I will sell on favourable terms. Persons wishing to examine the land, and coming by Rail Road, can be put off at the Cars at Vinson's Mill, where they will always find me.

I will also sell a TWENTY HORSE power SAW MILL, in good working order, with teams, waggons, and all appurtenances.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES. } Editors.

Monday Evening, Oct. 29, 1866.

To Those Who Owe Us.

A considerable amount is due on our books, both for advertising and old subscription, which we need, and which we hope our friends will forward to us, at farthest, by the members coming to the Legislature.

4t.

The Next Legislature.

Three weeks from to-day the General Assembly, just elected, will convene in this City.—Quite a number, of both Houses, have more or less experience in legislation, and from our knowledge, both of the old and new members, we look for a discreet, cautious, working session.

We deem it every way important to the success and efficiency of the body that every man should be at his post at an early day, in order that, after due consideration, the organization of both Houses may be judiciously and promptly effected. Fortunately, the number of elections to be made is small, and it is important that these should be disposed of properly at an early day, in order to remove every obstacle to thoughtful and wise legislation.

In this instance, the work of the Legislature will be emphatically State legislation—the interests and well being of the people, and of the State, being the chief matters of concern to the General Assembly. In regard to National politics, the action of the Legislature is necessarily confined to narrow limits. The rejection or adoption of the constitutional amendment proposed by the National Congress to the several State Legislatures, better known as the Howard amendment, constitutes the sum total of the action in this regard, demanded by the times, if we except the election of a U. S. Senator, whose term commences the 4th of March next.

The proposed constitutional amendment has been so fully discussed that but little time, we judge, will be consumed in its consideration.—Before the official announcement of peace, and while under the acknowledged force and presence of military rule, amendments to the Constitution, and other conditions of peace and reconciliation, were propounded to the people of this State, as terms of surrender necessary to peace, accompanied by the tacit pledges of the government that our compliance with these would secure to us all the privileges and rights of States under the Constitution and the protection of the government. These were promptly accepted and complied with.

Recognized by the forms of law and by all the departments of the government as constituent parts of the Union, as members of the great family of States, yet denied, in the persons of our Senators and Representatives, the sacred right of representation, and, above all, any voice in changing vitally the organic law of the land in which we are most deeply concerned, the National Congress now propounds to the several State Legislatures an amendment to the Constitution,—not as a further condition of peace and a full settlement of the controversy, but such terms as it has deemed proper to propose to all the States upon their naked merits, such as must most deeply degrade and humiliate the former slave States of this Union, and which are designed as a punishment and a lasting incubus upon them, after peace has been declared!

The bare statement of the proposition should be enough to determine at once the unanimous action of the General Assembly. This question has, however, been by design, and for purposes of deception, so persistently pressed upon us, as a probable if not a certain means of speedy reconciliation, that, yielding to the pressure of "hope deferred," some have seemed ready to abandon their manhood and the sacred rights of freedom altogether, and to crouch low enough to bear any burden, however ignominious, for the sake of quiet from the turmoils and agitations of the times. Alas! such have not even the poor pledge of quiet, when they have despicably shouldered so ruinous a burden.—But, thank Heaven, the General Assembly of North Carolina, in 1866, is not made of such stuff.

The present condition of the monetary affairs of the people, and the maintenance of the public credit both of the people and of the State, will claim a large share of the attention of the Legislature. Other matters relating to the future development of the State, the revision of the laws, and interests of great personal and public concern relating to public schools, &c., will engross much of the time and attention of the body. We trust that a wise prudence and forecaste will mark its entire action, and that its labors will greatly promote the interests of our entire people.

THE BALTIMORE IMBROGLIO.—The examination of the Baltimore Commissioners was resumed on Saturday at Annapolis. Their counsel waived the objections and pleas regarding the jurisdiction in the case, and submitted to trial. Several witnesses were examined showing the bad character of the employees of the Commissioners, and the partisan character of their appointments and acts. The trial was not concluded. Governor Swann announced his intention to hasten its conclusion, to decide on the innocence or guilt of the Commissioners as soon as it was evident to him, and to do his duty in the case immediately and fully.

MR. BROWNING'S letter on the state of the country, and in opposition to the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment, puts at rest the hundred stories that the President renounces or yields the policy he has been advocating, and adopts that of Congress, in deference to the result of the late elections. According to Mr. Browning, the President stands firm, and desires it to be so understood.

Gnawing a File.

The Standard, some days since, announced, with menacing emphasis, that it had carefully "filed" a copy of the Sentinel, in which we had counselled the people of North Carolina, under no circumstances voluntarily to accept the Howard amendment. This is an unnecessary precaution upon the part of Mr. Holden. We expect to repeat that advice often,—certainly whenever we shall think it necessary. We admonish our neighbor that we have several files of his paper "carefully" laid aside,—as, for instance: The issues

In which, when a candidate for Governor, Mr. Holden declared the whole people of North Carolina loyal, and in which is published the certificate he gave Battle, Heck & Co., Land Agents, to the effect that Northern men would be welcome and well-treated in the State;

In which, when defeated for Governor, he declared that the people of North Carolina were "unfit to be the associates in the Union of the loyal people of Ohio and Pennsylvania," and in which, day after day, he has misrepresented the condition of public sentiment and published the most damaging, perverted and libellious reflections upon its loyalty;

In which he advised the Convention to accept the Howard amendment in advance of its adoption by Congress,—thereby proving that he was then in favor of it on its merits, though he now professes to advocate it only "as the best we can get."

There is one file of the Standard which we will be particularly pleased to keep very "carefully," if Mr. Holden will put his opinion on paper as to what the Radical leaders, whom he is following so blindly and implicitly, intend to propose as their ultimatum. We are assured by the highest authority among them, that the ratification of the Howard amendment will not be sufficient, in itself, to secure our representation in Congress. If, therefore, the Radicals have resolved to impose additional conditions, why do they not announce boldly, and at once, the issue they intend to make, so that the country may understand what is to be required? Such a course on their part, as the ruling power of the nation, is due alike to the people of the North and the South. To the people of the North, that their verdict may be had upon the necessity and wisdom of the requirements to be made, and to the people of the South, that they may either accept or reject the conditions offered.

Your views, Mr. H! Fire away and we'll file them. You may say, perhaps, that you do not know the designs of these men; but a man who knows the purposes of the Red Strings, without being an actual member of the secret organization, can at least tell us something of the intentions of his Radical allies, though not yet formally, perhaps, admitted to their confidence and counsels.

The Stonewall (Winchester) Cemetery.

The Stonewall Cemetery was dedicated at Winchester, Va., on Thursday last, in the presence of ten thousand people from various points in the valley of Virginia. The remains of General T. Ashby and Captain Dick Ashby, and of Colonels Marshall and Thompson, were transferred and buried under the auspices of the Masonic Lodges of the valley, after which an oration was delivered by ex-Governor Henry A. Wise. The whole proceedings were conducted with great decurum, and are represented to have been of the most solemn and impressive character. The Executive Committee submitted a full report of their operations thus far, from which we make the following extract:

"We are able to report to day that in nine months since the 23d. day of last February, we have collected the remains of 2,494 dead from numberless localities, enclosed them in suitable coffins and given them decent burial in consecrated ground and within a protecting enclosure. These dead have been collected from an area of fifteen miles radius about this town, at an expenditure of time, labor and money readily imaginable. In the removal, every precaution has been taken to obtain all the information possible about every man, to be embodied in a permanent record. In interring them every grave has been marked by a number corresponding to its place in the record, so as to prevent any mistake of identity, should even head-boards be destroyed or defaced.

The whole number now buried here is 2,494, as follows:

North Carolina	447	Arkansas	20
Virginia	894	Maryland	13
Georgia	289	Texas	5
South Carolina	148	Kentucky	3
Alabama	72	Delaware	1
Louisiana	69	Unknown dead	815
Mississippi	66	Whose names
Florida	38	are known but
Tennessee	19	not their State	85.

HON. JEFFERSON DAVIS,—THE MISSISSIPPI LEGISLATURE.—The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the Legislature of Mississippi a few days since:

Resolved, That this body desires to express to Jefferson Davis their deepest sympathy, their profound respect, their combined personal attachment, and their enduring remembrance of his virtues as a man, and of those great qualities of mind and heart which, in the cabinet and field, in power and misfortune, have marked his eventful life, and which, from his prison-house, call forth and receive, at their hands, the same acknowledgement of love and regard that they did when he breathed the air of freedom.

Resolved, That the members of the House look upon the confinement of Mr. Davis as a State prisoner and without judicial powers continued now nearly eighteen months, as unwarrantable by the Constitution and the law, and in the name of common humanity they urge his immediate release, or at least that speedy trial which every man has a right to claim under the Constitution when called upon to answer to the courts of the country for his conduct.

Resolved, That this House is desirous that able members of the Mississippi Bar should at once proceed to Virginia and actively engage in the defense of Mr. Davis, with a view to his release; and that for such purpose it is prepared to make the necessary appropriations.

Resolved, further, That this House present to the people of Mississippi the subject of providing for the family of Mr. Davis by such general and liberal contributions from every county as will insure to his wife and children that provision for life which his eminent services, his devotion to his State—his self sacrifice—his great merits and great misfortunes so imperatively demand, and which for Mississippi now to refuse will show her and her sons alike degenerate.

Grape Culture and Fruit Trees.

The superiority of the climate and soil of our Eastern Counties for the culture of the grape and for wine making has long been known.—The successful experiments which have been made in that region, for more than a century, and repeated often during that period, have fully settled that question. But the existence of an abundance of slave labor, and the superior fertility of the soil in the production of corn and other marketable articles, made the means of living so easy and abundant, that few persons have been disposed to devote any time or care to the production of the grape or wine in sufficient quantities for market.

Now that our system of labor is changed, and a greater demand has been created for the division of labor in agricultural pursuits, we are glad to find our people turning their attention to grape and wine-raising. We observe that, in several counties, associations have been formed, having for their objects this, among other branches of industry.

The grape, in every variety, may be produced in the Eastern counties in great quantity, on the most ordinary lands, by the addition of such fertilizers as may be easily obtained. Its cultivation need not necessarily interfere with other crops designed for home consumption or for market. Perhaps no article can be produced whose results may be so profitable at so small expense. It is particularly adapted, we judge, to the labors of white persons, many of whom could not be so profitably employed on other farm labor. The great desideratum is to learn, first, what is the character of your soil, and what it needs to produce the grape; what species are most desirable and profitable; how it should be cultivated and managed, and then the entire process of wine-making. Having learned these, few may hesitate to embark in it.

In the middle and upper counties, as a means, especially, of supplying the lack of the labor formerly employed, we are inclined to think our people can find nothing more profitable than fruit raising. Apples and peaches should form the staple of the orchards cultivated. Every farmer should have an orchard. The growing demand for dried fruits, as well as the many uses to which fruit may be applied, promise a very satisfactory income to the fruit raiser.—Even the blackberry has become a large article of commerce, and this demand for fruits is not likely to be soon lessened. These will only need the care of white persons, when other crops will not so much require their attention. They may be produced on ordinary worn lands and require only timely and light culture. The best varieties of fruit trees, and directions how they should be cultivated, can always be obtained from Messrs. Westbrooks & Albright, of Greensborough, and of Messrs. Allan & Johnson, of Richmond, whose notices are frequently found in the Sentinel.

THE ELECTION for members of Congress appears to have been treated with sovereign indifference by the voters of Texas. At Galveston many of the principal citizens were not aware an election was to come off or had to take place. In two precincts the polls were not opened.—At Houston, one-sixth of the regular vote was polled. At San Antonio, only 104 out of 1500 votes were cast, and so on elsewhere.

THE TEXAS Legislature has oppropriated $2,000, or so much of that sum as may be necessary, for conveying the remains of Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston from New Orleans to Austin for interment in the State cemetery. A committee of one from the Senate and two from the House was appointed to superintend the removal.

Base Ball.

RICHMOND, Oct. 26.—A match game of base ball between the National Club, of Washington, and Union Club, of this city, took place this afternoon on the Fair grounds. It was witnessed by a large assemblage of spectators. The score resulted in one hundred and forty-three for the Nationals and eleven for the Union.

The Rev. Mr. Grammer, an Episcopal clergyman, of Baltimore, is reported to have had a very narrow escape from an awful death, in Switzerland, a few days ago. The mule on which he was riding went over a frightful precipice and was dashed to pieces. Mr. Grammer caught hold of the limbs of a tree, and was saved.—N. Y. Observer.

Gen. O. O. Howard, in a recent Lecture delivered in Newark, N. J., on "Christian Duty to the South," said:—"The actual relation of the North to the South is that of the conqueror to the conquered. Some preferred using milder terms, but this is the actual state of the case." He therenpon argues that something more than "magnanimity" is required, and that "strict exactions" are proper. This is "Christian" truly!

The Raleigh Sentinel thinks there will not be over twenty Radicals in the Assembly.

We are glad that it is no worse. But, alas! that there should be twenty Radicals elected in a Southern State.—Danville Times.

Bishop Atkinson's Letters from Europe.

(NO. 3.)

DUBLIN, SEPTEMBER 30, 1866.

MY DEAR MR. EDITOR:—I had hoped to have written you a letter nearly every week, but now more than a month has elapsed, without my sending you a line. The reason has been, that as my acquaintance has extended, my leisure has been abridged. I last wrote you, I believe, from Tunbridge Wells. I found that watering-place an extremely pleasant one, and very beneficial to my health. The water is the best tonic I ever tried, the scenery beautiful, and the air extremely pure and salubrious. The merits of the Chalybeate Spring were first made known to the public by Dudley, Lord North, a dissolute young nobleman, in the reign of James I. whose shattered constitution was so invigorated by its use, that instead of the premature death which seemed to await him, before he tried this remedy, he was, by virtue of it, enabled to attain extreme old age. It has ever since been much esteemed, and greatly frequented by the English. Near it is one of those historical houses of which they are justly proud. It is Penshurst, the seat of the Sidney family, to whom it has belonged since the time of Edward VI.—It was the birth-place of Sir Philip, and of Algernon Sidney, and is adorned with portraits of these, of Queen Elizabeth, and Dudley, Lord Leicester, her favorite, of Dorothea Sidney (Waller's Saccharissa) and of many other persons the world will never forget. It has also pictures by the old masters, and curious relics, pieces of armor, and the like, of the great men whose names are associated with the place.—The building is a fine old mansion of stone, quadrangular in form, enclosing a court, and surrounded by a park, remarkable for the size and beauty of its oaks.

While at Tunbridge Wells I received an invitation from a venerable old clergyman in Norfolk county, to meet the Bishop of Brisbane, at his house, and to take some part in a meeting to be held in his Parish, in furtherance of the interests of the new Diocese of Brisbane. I accepted the invitation, and met the Bishop and some fifteen or twenty clergymen of the neighborhood, many of them accompanied by their wives, at the table of my hospitable friend.—We had afterwards a pleasant, lively missionary gathering, in which, as a representative of the American Church, I received a most cordial welcome.

The next day I went with the Bishop and our host to Norwich, mainly to visit the Cathedral, bestowing a portion of our time, however, on the Palace and grounds of the Bishop of Norwich, shewn us by his sons, the Bishop and the rest of his family being absent, and taking a glance at the Castle and some of the Churches.

The Cathedral of Norwich would, in almost any other country, be considered one of its chief architectural glories. The building was commenced as far back as A. D. 1094. The work was carried on for centuries, and the spire was not erected until 1361. I give these facts to illustrate the antiquity of these grand and venerable monuments of Christian devotion. The architecture is of course, from its era, Norman. It is 411 feet long, and 191 wide, while the spire is 315 feet high. It will give an American reader a better idea of its size for him to consider that if the width of the Transepts were that of the whole building, there would be more than enough room in it for twelve churches 100 feet long, by 60 wide, or for at least twenty, of the average of such as we have in North Carolina. To stand at the western door of such a Cathedral, and cast your eye to its eastern extremity is like looking down an avenue of lofty trees whose branches intertwine far above you in the air. And when one remembers that the light which streams in on you, is gorgeous with the colors of richly-painted windows, that thickly planted around you are the monuments of saints and warriors of past ages,—here the effigy of a stern knight reclining in his armour,—there the figure of a devout prelate, with his arms crossed on his breast, in the attitude of prayer, and that here they have been lying century after century, while the restless loom of Time has been weaving the web of human life around them, one feels that a building may have other than merely material uses, that a sacred building may serve other purposes than to furnish room in which to bear a sermon; that it may be itself a sermon, a solemn and elevating sermon in stone, preaching with power to many successive generations.

That day I dined with a country gentleman who has a handsome place, near the residence, although not in the Parish of my kind clerical host, and as I have seen more perhaps of English country life than Americans generally do, it may be well to give my impressions of it, especially as it is very much confined to this country. In the South we had something like it before the war. Whether it will continue under the new order of things is doubtful. At the North, and on the Continent of Europe, men of wealth prefer to congregate in cities, and in the summer to resort to watering places. Most Englishmen who have estates in the country prefer, on the other hand, to reside on them, and to come up only occasionally to town, unless they are confined to it, by the engagements of political life. Their houses, I observe, are built chiefly in valleys, while ours, if possible, are on hills, the difference, I think, being due to the influence of climate. We who suffer from heat wooing the winds, while in this cooler and more stormy region, they seek rather to shelter themselves from their violence. Around their houses they have parks of greater or less extent according to the wealth of the proprietor. These are covered with grass of the richest verdure, which is carefully and frequently mown, and on which feed flocks of sheep, and fat happy-looking cows, and on the grounds belonging to great houses, herds of deer are enhancing that aspect of abundance, and tranquil beauty, which seems to me the characteristic charm of English scenery. Of course, there are always fine trees (objects much valued by the English) growing singly, or in clumps, and if possible, water in a stream, or lakelet, and near the house a profusion of beautiful flowers, of those kinds, such as Geraniums, which bloom all the summer. I may add in passing, that nothing in England has struck me more than the abundance and splendor of the flowers. I see a great advance in that respect, since my former visit to this country. The people themselves attribute it to the effect of their frequent Horticultural shows, inspiring all classes with a taste for this sort of decoration. So it is, from the cottage of the laborer to the palace of the Duke, all surround themselves with flowers, and even the railway stations are beautified by gay, bright beds of these natural ornaments.

I have already said that the grass is to the eye, and I may add, to the foot of the American, somewhat peculiar. Ours is a pale green, theirs is a deep purplish green, and its texture is so thick and soft that it yields to the foot like a rich Turkey carpet. This is due partly to nature, and partly to art. They have, one would think, almost daily showers, and the soil generally rests on chalk, or limestone, both being conditions very favorable to this growth.—Then they keep the same lawn not from year to year, but rather from century to century, undisturbed except by the hand of the mower and the pressure of the roller. One gentleman whom I recently visited told me that a lawn on which I had just been walking, had been used for that purpose only, so far as he could learn, from the days of King John. It is time then and cultivation, as well as a weeping sky, and a calcareous soil, which give to England its peculiarly rich and beautiful turf.

But to return to our English country gentleman. His house is usually of stone, large, often irregularly built, generally old, and the more valued for being so, so that I lately heard one who was a good deal more than a mere country gentleman complain rather bitterly of his grand-father, as having foolishly pulled down a house of immemorial antiquity, to build a new one in its stead. The furniture of these houses appears to me quite plain, compared with that of people of corresponding wealth in our own country. But they always have one ornament which they value highly, that is, pictures, portraits of their ancestors, and works of art executed by eminent painters of their own country, or master-pieces of continental artists, and costing usually very large sums to the purchaser, whether of the present or of a past generation. They keep too more servants than is usual with us, even with the same fortune, and they certainly have the finest and handsomest houses I have ever seen.

With homes, then, having so many comforts, and with a country so prosperous, and means of intercommunication so perfect, that a pleasant society is accessible everywhere, it is no wonder that the English delight in a country life. It is a pity that so few of them can enjoy it; millions know nothing of trees, and grass and luxuries, except what they see in the Parks and squares of London and other great cities. Indeed, in this respect, as in many others, clouds seem to me to be gathering over and beginning to darken this land, now so beautiful, so free, so prosperous. The agricultural element is dwindling in proportion to the general population.—London and the other cities are swelling out in every direction, so as to threaten to cover the whole country. Now the population of a great city is, I believe, in every respect, inferior to that of the country. They are smaller, feebler have less stern enduring courage, and at the same time are more passionate and excitable.—I believe that an English army would not be now as formidable to that of another nation, as it was at Crecy, at Blenheim, or at Waterloo. An urban population is at the same time, more unruly than a rural one.

The Hyde Park riots last summer indicated pretty plainly the lawless temper of a London mob, and the timid policy of the ministry, who really gave up for several days, the property of the government into the hands of the populace, augured ill for the future tranquility of the great metropolis.

But I must now close this long letter.

Yours truly, THOMAS ATKINSON.

THANKS to the Southern Express Co., for late Southern papers.

JUDGE GASTON once said that Raleigh was the most belliferous and vehicular place he ever knew. Those were the days when almost every family sported a vehicle of some sort, and when bells had not been supplanted by those modern nuisances, yclept gongs, at all the hotels. There is no deficiency either of bells, or belles, at the present day, but few are the families, in these hard times, that can afford the carriage. Their place, however, has been usurped by another sort of vehicle, and ambulances enough are scattered about in the surrounding country to supply the medical department of a corps d' armee.

THE LEGISLATURE meets on the 19th of November. Merchants, hotel keepers, and others are consoling themselves, in the present lull of business and travel, with the anticipation of a busy season when it convenes. May all their expectations be realized!

ARRIVALS AT THE EXCHANGE HOTEL, Oct. 28, 1866.—Samuel D. Tarrence, Baltimore, Julius P. Cordier, D. B. Kimball, N. Y., Master J. C. Dowd, Tarboro, J. L. Long, N. C. R. R., Gen. Barton, Va., Dr. Pass, Sampson, M. Lampkin, Va., B. Walker, Granville, Co., Thos. S. Smyth, Tenn., P. Trenirth, Philadelphia.

THE Petersburg Index is informed "by a lady," that no less than "thirty three of North Carolina's fair daughters are engaged"—for visits to Petersburg this winter, and it anticipates a gay time. It says that Granville, alone, will furnish eighteen. How many from Raleigh is not stated.

DOMESTIC MARKET.—That our country-friends may know what their articles will bring here, we append a schedule of prices: Beef, 8 15 10 cts. per lb; Chickens from 20 to 30 cents; Turkeys from $1 to $1.25 each; Butter from 40 to 50 cents per lbs; Eggs 25 cents per dozen; Cabbag 10 to 20 cts. per head; Turnips 25 cents a peck; Apples do.; Sweet-potatoes 50 cts. per bushel; Meal $1.40 per bushel. Provisions are plenty, and, with a few exceptions, to be had, all things considered, at reasonable prices.

THE WINCHESTER CELEBRATION.—Praise from a Radical Source.—The New York Tribune, an ultra Radical paper, says:

"The dispatch which we have received from Winchester, Virginia, gives but an imperfect idea of the character of the address which General Wise delivered at the dedication of the Stonewall Cemetery. But we have no doubt it was eloquent, and that his hearers took from it new inspiration to cherish the past, to which Stonewall Jackson and the living Lee indubitably belong. We cannot dispute over Virginia's obedience to nature in mourning her dead, nor agree with Gov. Wise that the cause for which they died still lives. Mr. Wise himself may have philosophic doubts upon that point, if his confessions concerning slavery be truly reported. Yet we shall be glad if one-half the young men of Virginia take the good advice which the address contains."

The editor of the Mobile Register had occasion to write on business to an old friend (an uncomprising "Rebel," so-called) at Washington, and in a P. S. asked him what he thought of public affairs. His reply is brief and pithy, as follows: "Politics! Bless your soul, I have not read a newspaper for eighteen months. I am not a citizen, and don't trouble myself about such things. There'll be h—ll to pay soon, but it's none of my funeral; I having died very dead, and been buried a year and a half ago."

The Pittsburg Post is responsible for this ungallant paragraph:

Jane G. Swisshelm writes a letter to the Pittsburg Gazette. She advocates fire and sword, as the mildest remedy for our national grievances. If Jane and Parson Brownlow could only hitch teams and make a professional tour, we wouldn't be much alarmed on the fire and sword business from the people before whom they would appear. They are both as ugly as mortal sin and just as bad.

The Boston Post thus tells the whole story of the Radical opposition to a restoration of the Union:

"Why don't they reconstruct the Southern States,
Who stand repentant knocking at our gates?
It seems to me," says simple, "'tis a sin,
Now they've repented, not to let them in."
"It would not do," says Wade; "for past a doubt,
If they come in, our party will go out."

Two young fellows got to bantering each other the other day. Finally, one of them exclaimed, "Well, there's one thing, you can't put your head into an empty barrel." "Oh, nonsense," exclaimed the other, "why can't I?" "Because," dryly rejoined the first, "it is an impossibility to put a hogshead into a barrel."

A lady in reply to some guests that praised the mutton on her table, said, "Oh! yes, my husband always buys the best; he is a great epicue."

The New York Citizen promises a pen-portrait of Henry J. Raymond it it can keep him long enough in one attitude to get an unblurred picture.

State News.

—— In the U. S. District Court, Judge Brooks presiding, at Newbern, on Friday, a verdict was given for the plaintiff, and $200 damages awarded, in the case of Christian vs. Olney. The plaintiff's baggage, on the arrival of a boat at Newbern, was not forth-coming on the presentation of his check, and hence the suit.

—— The young folks of Goldsboro' have determined to have a grand Tournament on the 15th. of November. They invite and challenge all the "Kinghts" in the State to appear in Goldsboro' on that day and participate in the exercises.

—— Maj. D. H. Morton, of the V. R. Corps, former Assistant Superintendent at Morganton, has relieved Capt. A. W. Shaffer lately on duty in Charlotte in charge of the "Bureau." The Guardian says that Capt. Shaffer has been clever and courteous. He goes to Salisbury.

—— The Editor of the Salisbury Banner has in his possession an ear of corn containing sixteen rows and sixty-three grains to the row,—counting out 1,008 grains. Hard to beat.

—— The Superior Court of New Hanover was occupied all day on Friday with the case of the State vs. Lewis and Augustus Williams, freedmen, charged with highway robbery.—The prisoners were defended by Hon. George Davis and Julius W. Wright, Esq., who were assigned to the duty by Judge Merrimon.—The efforts of both counsel were very creditable, and the Dispatch says that Mr. Davis could not have been more earnest and eloquent if his clients had been of the highest social standing and wealth. This is Southern "persecution" of the blacks! The evidence was irresistible and the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

—— The Grand Jury of New Hanover Superior Court have presented a memorial, with the request that Judge Merrimon would endorse it favorably, asking the Legislature to establish a Special Court, with criminal jurisdiction, for Wilmington. His Honor said that he would endorse it favorably with pleasure.

—— We learn that a citizen of an adjoining county, while coming down the Chesapeake, a few nights since, was approached by a person on the boat, who represented himself as a clergyman's son from the South, and asked permission to share his state-room. Permission was granted, and in the course of the night the impostor made an attempt to rob the pockets of the North Carolinian, who caught him in the act. The fellow resisted arrest, and in the scuffle had his ear cut off. He was finally secured.

—— The Charlotte Times announces that Col. Ed. Graham Haywood, of this City, will repeat his lecture on the "Christian Statesman" in that place, to-morrow (Tuesday) night,—the proceeds to be applied to the publication of his forth-coming work on Chronology.

Fenian-ana.

BUFFALO, Oct. 27.

An appeal is published in the morning papers here for a mass meeting of the Fenians on Sunday night. It urges resistance to the execution of the Fenians lately sentenced to death at Toronto.

MONTREAL, C. W. Oct. 27.

The news that Lynch the Fenian has been sentenced to death, causes much discussion here. Another large lot of war material has arrived from England.

TORONTO, Oct. 27.

The trial of other Fenians will probably not be commenced before Wednesday. Mr. McKenzie who is retained by the American Cousul to defend such as are Americans, not being ready for trial.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.

The Secretary of State has addressed a letter to Sir. Fredrick Bruce in behalf of Lynch and McMahon, recently convicted in a colonial Court of Canada and sentenced to death upon a charge that, being citizens of the U. S., they were acters in the Fenian raid, he says that the U. S. Consul at Toronto has been instructed to procure, for the informati on of the government a copy of the proceedings of the trial and conviction, and also of all further trials and convictions of a similar character which shall take place in Canada.

The Secretary says: "The President directs me to assure you of his confident hope that his Majesty's Government will not only cheerfully comply with the request thus made, but that they will think it proper to examine the judicial proceedings aforesaid with a careful regard to the rights of the U. S. and to the maintenance of good relations between the two countries. For this reason, it will be very gratifying to the President if you should be able to give me an assurance that the execution of the sentences pronounced upon convicted persons will be suspended, if occasion for delay shall arise in the manner before mentioned to make it desirable. It is the opinion of the government that sound policy coincides with the best impulses of a benevolent nature in recommending tenderness, amnesty and forgiveness.

The New York Herald's Toronto special says that dispatches are coming in from all the provinces demanding that no mercy be shown the convicted Fenians.

The threats made by the New York Fenians to avenge the death of those convicted, are doing great injury to the prisoners.

From New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.

Further discoveries are being made of forgeries of Judges' names to naturalization papers in this city.

Our Afternoon Dispatches.

From New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.

The Democratic and National Union Committees have passed resolutions, requesting the Government to make speedy interference for the safety and protection of Lynch and McMahon.

An immense meeting has been held in Buffalo of sympathy for the prisoners.

Markets and Financial.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29, M.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.

Miss Fanny Seward, daughter of the Secretary of State, died this morning.

The Committee appointed by Tammany Hall to call on the President, with a view of obtaining executive interference in case of American citizens condemned to death at Toronto, had an interview this morning. The President said he had anticipated their memorial, as would be perceived by copies of the correspondence published this morning. He expressed his sympathy with their mission. Interview very satisfactory to the Committee.

$50 REWARD.

WHO CAN TELL
How much suffering comes from Diseased Livers?—Let parents read the following, and remember that these Pills are safe for the most delicate ladies:
Wm. Carraway, Esq., Wayne Co., N. C. (Sept. 1, 1862, says: "I have used the Southern Hepatic Pills in my family. My daughter was in very bad health from disorder of the liver for the space of three years, hardly having had a week without suffering. She took the Pills regularly and strictly according to the directions on the wrapper, and her health has been entirely restored by them. I have used them with great benefit among my servants on the plantation, and can recommend them as a safe and useful family medicine."

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!
DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are, fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhoea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. Maggiel, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

For reference, Testimonials, &c., send for a CIRCULAR.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.
The Louisville Journal says: "The testimonials which Dr. Gardner presents to the public could never have been obtained, except by the display of great skill and learning in his profession. One thing especially commendable in the Doctor's practice is, that he will not attempt an incurable disease for the sake of a fee, but frankly tells the patient whether he can be cured or not. We cheerfully recommend Dr. Gardner to the attention of all our friends who may be suffering from diseases of the eye or ear."
The Richmond Times says: "We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Gardner is the most scientific and successful eye and ear Surgeon in this country."
"Dr. Gardner's treatment of the eye and ear is wonderful."—Richmond Enquirer.
"We feel justified in recommending Doctor Gardner to those suffering from diseases of the eye and ear."—Richmond Whig.
"We can safely and cordially recommend Dr. Gardner, who will fulfill all he undertakes to perform."—Baltimore Clipper.
The New Orleans True Delta says: "We can safely recommend Dr. Gardner as a successful operator on the eye and ear. He will not undertake to treat a case unless a cure can be effected.
The Wheeling Register says: "Dr. Gardner is one of the most successful Oculists and Aurists in the country. We advise those suffering from the diseases of the eye and ear to consult him."

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.
JAMES MYERS,

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhea, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.
WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.
The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.
New York, Jan. 11, 1866.
My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal. I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.
J. HARDY,
119 Gedrick Street.
Extract from Various Letters:
"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."
"Your Pills are marvelous."
"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."
"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."
"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."
"My nausea of a morning is now cured."
"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."
"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."
"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."
"Send me five boxes of your pills."
"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."
I have over 200 such Testimonials

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF

DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN

LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND

Near Warrenton, N. C

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 15th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court-House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is in one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Offices in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. This square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The Lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fire wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and Lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

TERMS.—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered.

Ex'r Dr. H. J. Davis.

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON. D. C,

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative notes, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

IN addition to the loss and prompt payment of Justus Kinseys policy for $5,000, is now added another loss, by the death of J. E. Weeks, of Elizabeth City, N. C. for $5,000, and again promptly settled by the Ætna.

By this practical illustration of the advantages of Life Insurance, it is commended to the confidence and support of every one desirous of providing for surviving loved ones.

As an investment merely, a Life Insurance Policy is as safe an investment of funds as can be made.—The principal, generally, is not only many times in excess of the amount paid, but in a sound company it has no rival for security, and no species of Government bonds are a more desirable investment.

1866. FALL TRADE 1866.

M'ILWAINE & CO.,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS,

No. 79 Sycamore Street,

Petersburg, Virginia,

TAKE PLEASURE IN INFORMING THEIR friends and the trade generally that the steady increase of their business has rendered it necessary for them to add two rooms to their Dry Goods Department, together with a large and convenient entrance from Tabb street, which arrangement gives them a most spacious Sales-room, well lighted, and enables them by this increased accommodation to add largely to their Fall Supply.

They beg leave to invite particular attention to their extensive assortment of

made to order under the supervision of Mr. A. S. SHAFER, whose long experience in this department of business, in this city, has made him familiar with the wants of Merchants in Virginia and North Carolina. Anticipating a heavy Trade this Fall, their stock will be found unusually large, embracing a general assortment of

American and Foreign

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

together with a full line of

which having been purchased for cash, they have no hesitation in saying to the Trade, that they are prepared to offer such inducements as will insure satisfaction.

Capt. EDWARD GRAHAM and Mr. JOHN McNEECE have charge of this Department, and will be pleased to exhibit our stock to buyers visiting this market.
